

Thinking and Learning about Civil Rights with Picture Books

The picture books listed explain racism and the history of segregation based on the social construct of race (Black, Indigenous, Latinx, and Asian) and disabilities. Roberto Alvarez, Sylvia Mendez, Rosa Parks, Ruby Bridges, and Jennifer Keelan-Chaffins displayed extraordinary resilience, wisdom, and moral courage in exercising their civil rights.

The George Eastman Museum invites you to read and share these books before or after viewing the exhibition Gillian Laub: Southern Rites. When viewing the photographs in the exhibition reflect on the following questions.

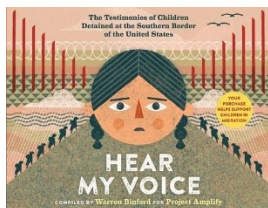

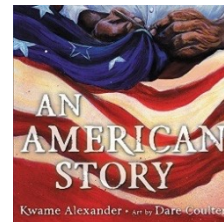

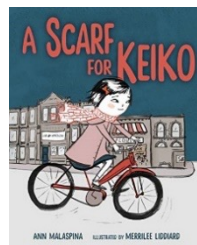

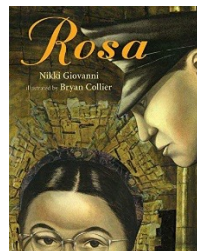

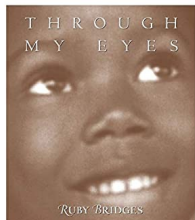

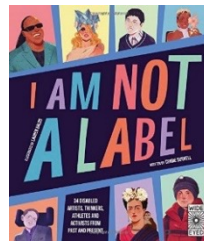

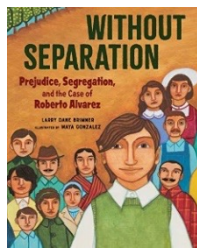

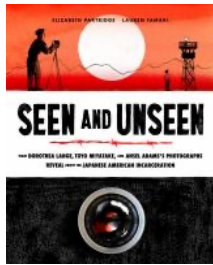

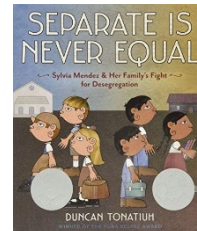

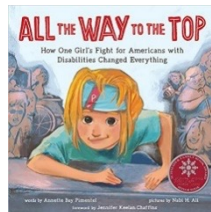

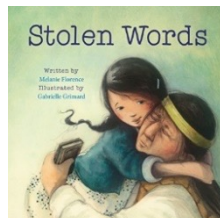

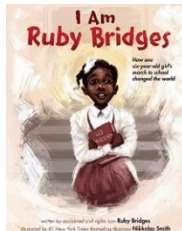

What is the difference between...

looking and seeing?

watching and viewing?

feeling and witnessing?

All the books listed are in the Monroe County Library System.

Visit eastman.org/southernrites-books for the complete list of books.

Thinking and Learning about Diversity, Equity, Accessibility, and Inclusion with Picture Books

The picture books listed recognize the importance of diversity, equity, accessibility, and inclusion. These books celebrate moving forward with consideration of diverse perspectives, providing resources to create equitable situations, increasing access, and creating an inclusive environment, which is unquestioned acceptance.

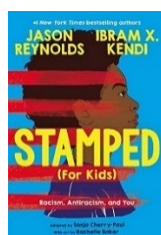

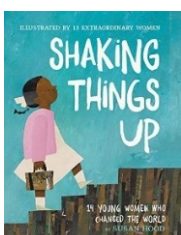

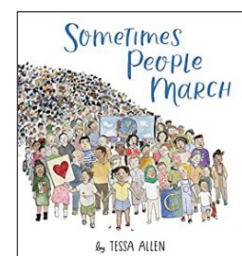

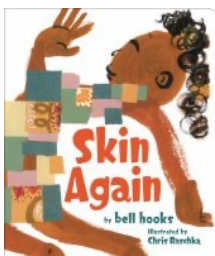

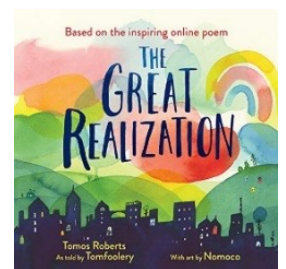

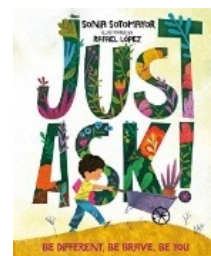

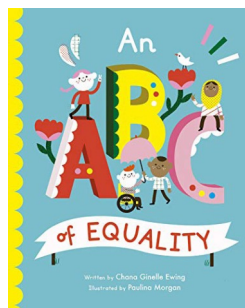

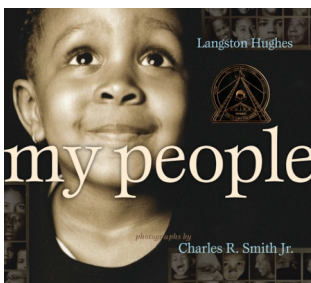

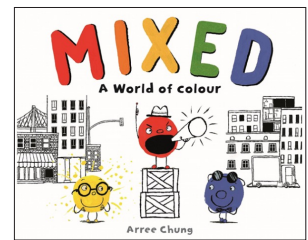

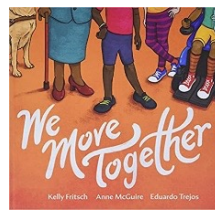

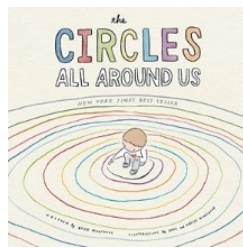

The George Eastman Museum invites you to read and share these books before or after viewing the exhibition Gillian Laub: Southern Rites. When viewing the photographs in the exhibition reflect on the following questions.

Why is it important to learn from one another?

Why is it vital to listen to other people's stories?

What stories do you see in these photographs?

All the books listed are in the Monroe County Library System.

Visit eastman.org/southernrites-books for the complete list of books.