

Right Rites Write

Think about these three words above in relationship to the photographs in the exhibition, Gillian Laub: Southern Rites.

What are your thoughts, impressions, ideas, and hopes as you think of the words – Right, Rites, and Write?

- Write about an image in the exhibition in any manner you want. You can list words that come to mind and then describe the image. As you describe the image what feelings emerge?
- What connections occur between the words and the image? Are those connections related to your experiences? How do those connections make you feel?
- What questions emerge as you write? Where will you look for answers? Once you find the answers what steps will you take?
